

Barriers Still Exist

PVA
Paralyzed Veterans of America

Inaccessibility can affect anyone at any time. More than one-third of Americans face inaccessibility every day—a reality that must change. Paralyzed Veterans of America is leading the fight for an inclusive, accessible world. Veterans, individuals with disabilities and mobility impairments, seniors, and parents with young children ALL deserve spaces that allow them to fully participate in their communities and that work for everyone.

PVA's latest PSA, Barriers Still Exist – For Everyone, reveals the impact of inaccessibility through the eyes of five everyday Americans. Simple tasks like shopping, boarding a hotel shuttle, attending school, or catching a bus can become daunting or entirely un navigable when barriers are present.
